

Your child support will be less - starts January 1, 2006

Starting January 1, 2006, parents getting cash benefits from the Caretaker Supplement Program will get less child support. Parents will get only part of the child support that the other parent pays. Their SSI Caretaker Supplement benefits will not be less.

What this means to you

You will get only part of your child support if you are getting SSI Caretaker Supplement benefits starting January 1, 2006. You will get all your child support that is paid this year. Starting next year, you will get only part of your child support. Over the year, your part of the paid child support will go down. Your benefit from the Caretaker Supplement Program will not be less.

Example:

Month	Child support paid by the other parent	You will get about this much child support
December 2005	$100	$100	100%
January 2006	$100	$85	85%
February 2006	$100	$85	85%
March 2006	$100	$85	85%
April 2006	$100	$71	71%
May 2006	$100	$71	71%
June 2006	$100	$71	71%
July 2006	$100	$56	56%
August 2006	$100	$56	56%
September 2006	$100	$56	56%
October 2006 and every month after	$100	$42	42%

Why will I get less child support?

When you signed up for the Caretaker Supplement Program, you "assigned" (signed over) your rights to child support. By law, this is needed for getting cash benefits.

You had been getting all your paid child support because Wisconsin had a special agreement with the federal government. This agreement will end December 31, 2005. Starting January 1, Wisconsin must use some of the child support to pay for your cash benefits.
